

Bits & Pieces

A brief message from the editors:

Hello Bits and Pieces Truthers,

We have collectively decided that our opinions outweigh yours. And because of our New Year resolutions to do more community service, we will be enlightening you every other week on our musings about the happenings on campus. Enjoy! Or don't. We don't gaf.

DISCLAIMER: Please do not take anything we say here seriously. We are the most unserious people on this campus and need an outlet.

SPRING SEMESTER INS AND OUTS

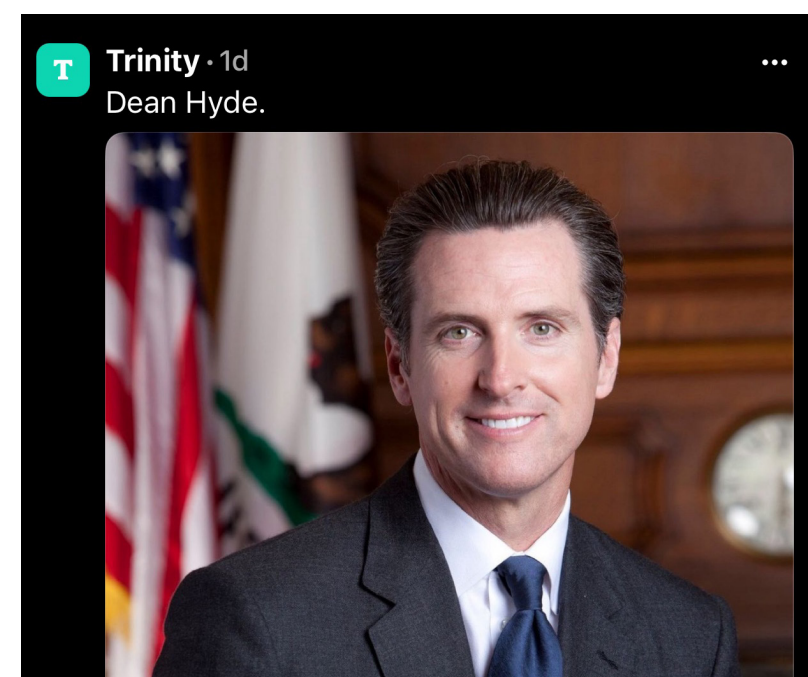

INS	OUTS
“Cave-a-dilla”- Quesadillas from the Cave are so good when you don't have a bitch in your ear saying they're nasty.	“Trinstruction”- In all honesty what are they fixing? Does anyone actually know?
Skimming your readings- God bless an abstract.	Microsoft Outlook- One day I will figure out how to block the emails from the clubs I never showed up to.
Taking the bus around Hartford- Humble yourself. We're begging.	The class of 2027- We need to launch a full federal investigation into what was in the formula in 2005 (We know we were freshmen too but you guys are different).
Trinity raising the minimum wage- Westfarms here we come!	Pink Whitney- She's taken enough from me already.
SOMEMen in political science classes keeping it mute- No one needs to hear “devil's advocate” for the 70th time within 3 weeks.	The plate police in Mather- It is never that serious (unless we are THAT broke).

If you have no one to spend Valentine's Day with, treat it like a real national holiday at Trinity; get wicked drunk and try not to text your ex

Happy Valentine's Day! Here are some horoscopes. Listen, or don't.

For many, February 14th is a day to celebrate that special person in your life. For others, it's a more general day to celebrate love in all of its forms. And for the rest of us, it's a tortured day of Instagram jumpscare and FOMO-induced anxiety. Whatever category you fall into, we hope you remember to stand ten toes down this Valentine's day. PS, happy Aquarius season.

♥ Aquarius: You are not quirky and esoteric for hating V-Day, Aquarius. Go on that date. We all know you secretly want flowers anyway.

♥ Pisces: We recommend you try turning over a new leaf this month (your ex from three years ago is NOT coming back).

♥ Aries: You wonder why you can't get a date but you have the energy of 17-year-old boy who punches holes in his wall. Go to therapy and then maybe you can retain Tinder privileges.

♥ Taurus: Get out from under your weighted blanket, turn off Gilmore Girls, and go have some fun! How will you ever get to live out your insane delusions if you keep being so stubborn?

♥ Gemini: If you're worried about your date going well, try letting them get a word in. Yes, you're probably more interesting, but it wouldn't hurt.

♥ Cancer: That Capricorn who takes 3-5 business days to respond your snaps is not going to ask you out. It's time to stop putting the hopeless in hopeless romantic.

♥ Leo: Love is in the air for you, Leo. It may just be found in your self obsession, but something is better than nothing.

♥ Virgo: You don't even need a horoscope, we know you've planned the entire month out including the perfect Valentine's date. Maybe be careful with the candy; I don't know one Virgo who doesn't have chronic digestive issues.

♥ Libra: Knowing you, you're either painstakingly narrowing down the roster or fantasizing about someone who doesn't know you exist. Wherever you're at, just know you probably won't find the love of your life in the basement of a frat.

♥ Scorpio: You are not dropping hints like you think you are, Scorpio. This is not the time for subtlety. The world will not explode if you tell someone how you feel, we promise.

♥ Sagittarius: This is the year to let your fear of commitment go, Sag! Or maybe just try to keep that talking stage going for longer than a week before you ghost.

Putin Reveals All in Intimate Interview with Beloved Alum Tucker Carlson '91

In an astounding recent interview, celebrated Trinity College alum Tucker Carlson '91 sat down with mysterious Russian leader Vladimir Putin to ask the real questions the world wanted to know.

"My favorite flavor of Zyn is Coffee," revealed Putin. The live audience was quick to react, with gasps and screams able to be heard on the broadcast. Carlson swiftly switched gears and asked Putin another question, although it's safe to say that Putin's response to this garnered even more of a reaction from the audience.

"I am actually a huge Drake fan," Putin admitted before beginning to sing a perfect rendition of "God's Plan." "I listen to Drake almost every day, and I respect his decision to share the video online. His body, his choice."

After saying this phrase, Carlson seemed to literally shut down, requiring an aide behind the camera to come onscreen and reset his hard drive. After a few minutes of Putin rapping Drake's verse on "Forever" ft. Kanye West, Lil Wayne and Eminem, Carlson came back to life.

The interview lasted two hours and the men did not mention the Russia-Ukraine war once. Look out for Carlson's interview with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu next week, and U.S. President Joe Biden the week after, both of which continue Carlson's war criminal interview series.
